Summary of Qualifications

Throughout my career as a senior executive in the New York City Police Department, I have taken charge of every investigation into terrorism – most of which the public never hears about because they were thwarted. Ensuring public safety is the focal point of my career; I've been instrumental in mitigating school shooting threats and high-profile terrorism events. My leadership style is based on a shared recognition of the danger inherent in our roles, and I maintain an open-door policy so that everyone in my unit feels confident that I have their back. Additionally, I possess U.S. Department of Defense Secret Clearance.

Career Highlights

- Led investigation into former teacher who paid students to assist in building explosives in a NYC apartment where materials & directions to assemble were recovered
